

UNTITLED (AFTER 20 YEARS)

TUDOR PRISĂCARIU

Exactly 20 years ago, the hopes of all Romanians were concentrated on a cut yellow circle, the symbol of the 1989 Romanian Revolution. This simple gesture had, at least symbolically, erased the past, giving us, the Romanian people, the chance to build a future of our own and fill that hole.

On the 22nd of December 2009, I wanted to pay tribute to all of those who in 1989 made this possible.

The photos are taken in hotspots of the Revolution in Bucharest: House of the Free Press, National Television building, Romană Square, Ministry of Internal Affairs building (the former Central Committee of the Communist Party, from which Ceaușescu escaped by helicopter on the 22nd of December 1989), University Square / National Theatre Building, House of the Parliament and Victoria Square / Romanian Government building.

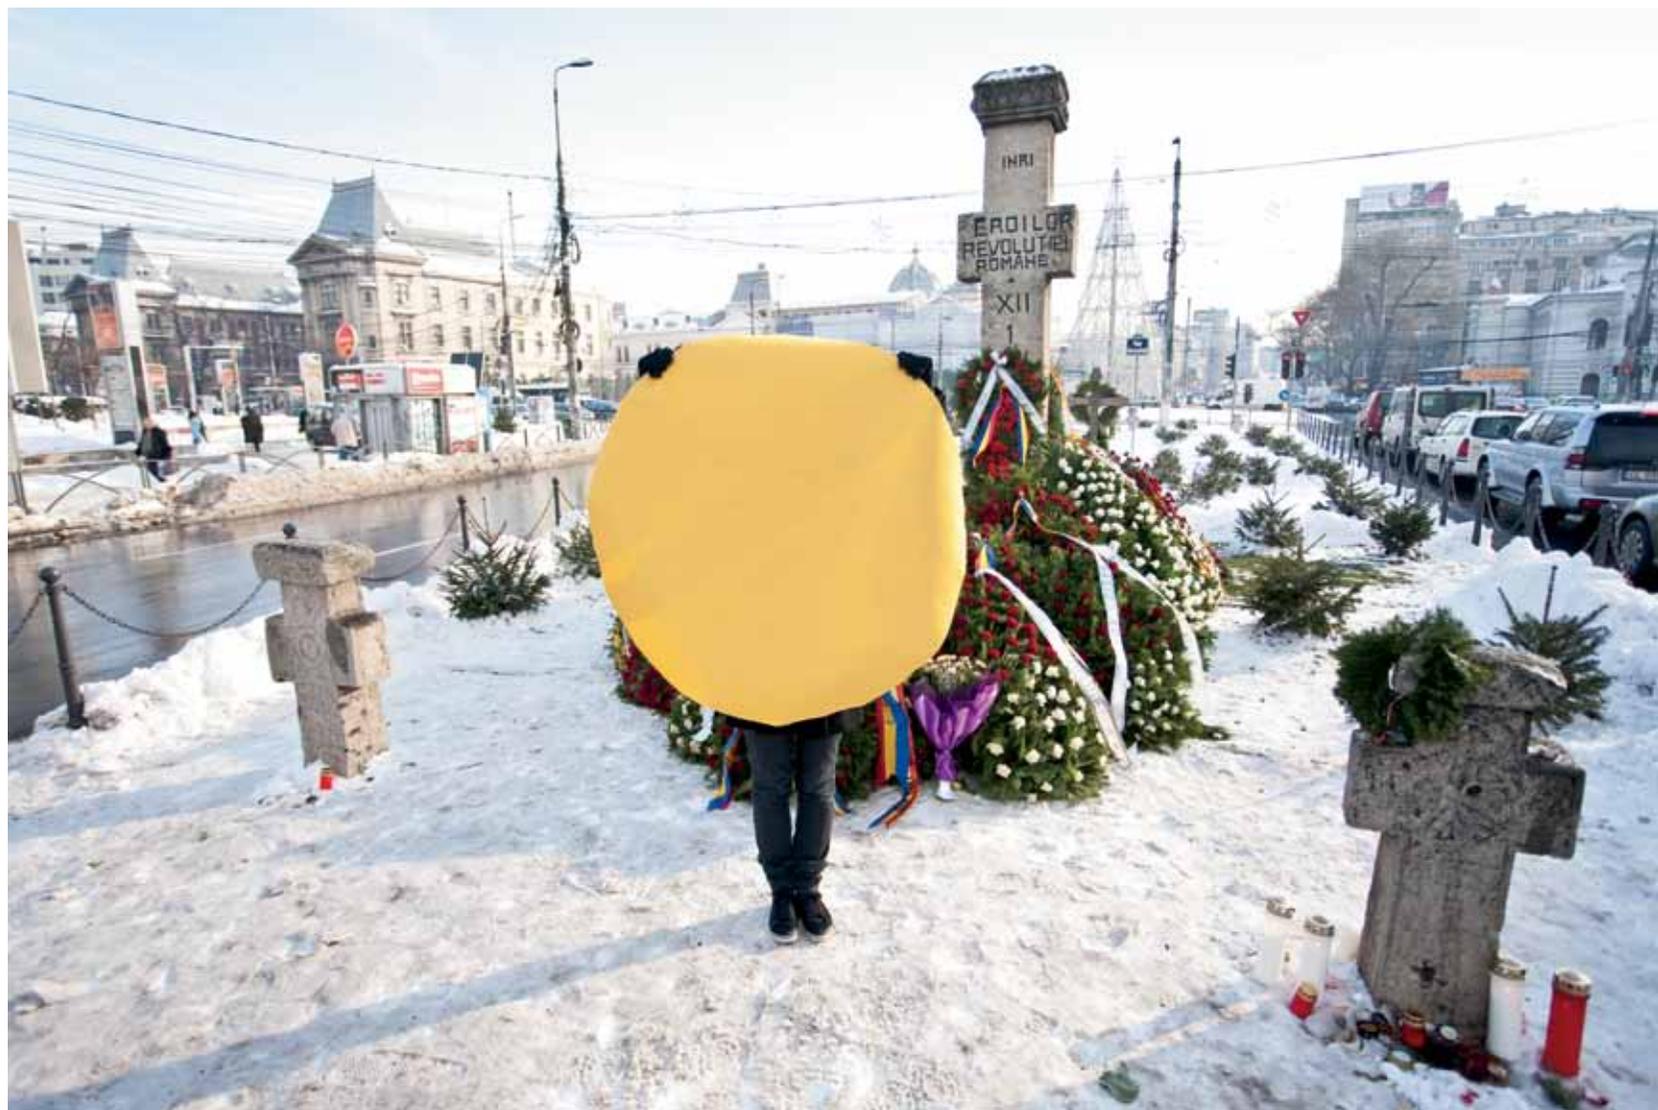

The following pages contain the names of those who died during the Romanian Revolution, as written on the Memorial of Rebirth situated in the Revolution Square, Bucharest.
